Meet Our Group, Saetbyeol!

Meet the members of SAETBYEOL

Idol group Saetbyeol (SAETBYEOL) — a 5-member group that wants to shine like the morning star!

The members learn Korean while preparing for their debut. You can learn Korean together with the Saetbyeol members too!

This textbook is a beginner course based on TOPIK I (Level 1) question types. The practice questions in each unit follow the real TOPIK test format (listening & reading).

The Secret of Hangul ① — The Story of Hunminjeongeum

A letter created by King Sejong for the people

Long ago, Koreans used Chinese characters (한자). But hanja was so hard that common people could neither read nor write. King Sejong said, "The people suffer because they cannot write down what they want to say," and created a new alphabet anyone could learn easily. Its name is Hunminjeongeum (훈민정음) — meaning "the correct sounds for teaching the people."

- 1443 King Sejong created Hunminjeongeum (28 letters).
- 1446 Published as the Hunminjeongeum Haerye — released to the world with its principle manual.
- 1910s Scholar Ju Si-gyeong named it Hangul — meaning "the great and correct script."
- 오늘 With 24 letters (14 consonants + 10 vowels), it is recognized as the world's most scientific writing system.

The Secret of Hangul ② — Consonants are "Shapes of the Mouth"!

Consonants made by imitating the shape of the speech organs

The 5 basic consonants were made by copying the shape of the mouth, tongue, and throat as they move when you speak. Just looking at the letter shows you how to pronounce it!

ㄱ

g/k

기역

Shape of the tongue root blocking the throat

ㄴ

n

니은

Shape of the tongue tip
touching the upper gum

ㅁ

m

미음

Shape of pursed lips

ㅇ

s

시옷

Shape of the teeth

ㅇ

ng

이응

Shape of the throat

Add a stroke and it becomes a stronger sound: ㄱ→ㅋ, ㄴ→ㄷ→ㅌ, ㄴ→ㄹ→ㄺ, ㄴ→ㄺ→ㅀ, ㄴ→ㅈ→ㅊ. One extra stroke = one stronger sound!

The Secret of Hangul ③ — Vowels are "Heaven, Earth, Human"!

Cheonji-in (天地人) — vowels that draw the universe

Vowels are made from just three symbols: · (heaven, a dot) — (earth, something flat) 丨 (human, a standing figure). Every vowel is born from how these three are arranged!

 (arae-a) 하늘 Round dot = heaven	 eu 땅 Flat earth	 i 사람 Standing person
--	---	--

The combination rule:

丨 + · = ㅏ / ㅑ Heaven (·) to the right of human (丨) → ㅏ · to the left → ㅑ

— + · = ㅓ / ㅕ Heaven above earth (—) → ㅓ · below → ㅕ

ㅏ + 丨 = ㅗ / ㅛ When vowels combine, a new vowel is born!

The Secret of Hangul ④ — One letter = one syllable block

Consonant + vowel come together to form "one letter"

Hangul is not written in a row like the alphabet. Instead, consonants and vowels are stacked in one block to form one syllable. You can even add a final consonant (받침) below!

가 ㄱ + ㅏ	→	간 ㄱ + ㅏ + ㄴ	→	사랑 ㅅ + ㅏ + ㄹ + ㅏ + ㄹ + ㅏ + ㄴ 사 + 랑 · 2 blocks
-------------------	---	-----------------------	---	--

Stack blocks to make words, then sentences! Example: 사랑해요 = 사 + 랑 + 해 + 요 (4 blocks)

The Secret of Hangul ⑤ — A Script Recognized by the World

"The most remarkable writing system on Earth" — world linguists

Hunminjeongeum is registered as a UNESCO Memory of the World. American linguist Edwin Reischauer praised it as "the finest writing system in the world." Because sound and letter map 1:1, it is easy to learn!

한글날 — 10월 9일 A Korean national holiday celebrating Hangul!

유네스코 세계기록유산 (1997) Hunminjeongeum Haerye registered

훈민정음 → 한글 Today's name was given by Ju Si-gyeong
